

Know Your Food

Although eggs can be produced faster using conventional egg farming, they are causing pain to the hens that lay them. Organic or Free Range hens have a happy life and enjoy laying eggs more, farmers tell us. Being at LayDilay made me realise how much we as humans have forgotten to respect the animals that provide us. The eggs we are eating comes from hens in slavery and that laying them causes pain and sorrow. Organic hens are not actually free range they are just fed organic food, and so many people are tricked into thinking that because it says that on egg boxes which also has a happy cute little chicken on it which is not often the case. Free Range farming is nicer I think because the legal amount of space per chicken is 9 chickens.
